

Carol Nash, Founder & CEO of Bernadette's House, has been elected to the Board of Directors for the Maryland Women's Heritage Center (MWHC). The Maryland Women's Heritage Center was established to preserve the past, understand the present and shape the future by recognizing, respecting and transmitting the experiences and contributions of Maryland women of diverse backgrounds and from all regions of the state. Her role on the Board will include work with events, and member/community partner engagement.

Ms. Nash's professional background includes nearly 30 years in healthcare, education and international consulting. She holds degrees in both Nursing and Healthcare Administration, and a Master of Arts in Religion. Ms. Nash has developed corporate-based training on topics such as customer service, team building, coaching and mentoring. These and other life-experiences inspired Ms. Nash to establish Bernadette's House, a non-profit organization that fosters the development of critical skills that enable young girls to make positive impact choices for their future. In a recent article in the NY Times, she was recognized as a representative of a growing and potentially historic force in philanthropy for the work she has done to establish Bernadette's House.

Ms. Nash is a mother and grandmother, and lives with her husband, the Honorable Eli Nash Jr. in Laurel, Maryland.
